MYSTERIOUS SHOT AROUSES RUSSIA

Battery Riddled Chapel--Officials Claim it Was an Accident.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—During the annual ceremony of blessing the waters in front of the winter palace by Emperor Nicholas yesterday, several shots were fired from across the Neva, and the bullets entered the windows of the palace.

No one was hurt. The incident caused considerable alarm.

One bullet cut a clean hole two inches in diameter through a double upper window in Nicholas hall, immediately above a window from which a group of correspondents and officers were viewing the ceremony.

Electric lamps on the opposite side of the hall were smashed and fell to the floor with a clatter.

An officer picked up the bullet which was of iron and resembled a shrapnel ball.

The imperial party soon after re-entered the palace and the emperor was informed of the occurrence, and as the procession passed, an officer pointed out the holes in the windows.

The emperor was quite unmoved, and hardly glanced at the place indicated.

Grandduke Vladimir, eldest uncle of the czar, immediately opened an investigation and interrogated witnesses.

Additional particulars show that the emperor had a miraculous escape. There is no longer any doubt that the missiles came from a gun of the house battery which was loaded with grape shot. Some bullets actually struck a little open chapel in which the emperor was standing, fairly riddling the basement windows of the palace, killing a policeman outright and wounding an officer and three marines. Had the gun been aimed a little lower the whole Romanoff dynasty might have been wiped out. All men and officers of the battery were immediately arrested.

It is now stated in official circles that the grape was fired from one of the guns of the Seventh battery, First horse artillery of the guard, the most aristocratic corps in the Russian army. It seems that at gun practice Tuesday a loaded shell was inadvertently left in the gun.

Official Says It Was Accident.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—The official account of today's shooting affair is as follows:

"During the ceremony of the blessing of the Neva today, in the presence of the emperor as the usual salute was being fired, an accident happened. A charge of grape instead of a saluting charge was fired near the house. Some bullets struck the facade of the winter palace, near the quay gardens, breaking four windows. A policeman belonging to the St. Petersburg force was wounded. According to information to hand at present no other accident occurred. Inquiry continues."

Public Says Assassination.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—In spite of an official statement that the cannon shot which (Thursday) might easily have wiped out the whole Romanoff family was the result of carelessness in leaving a loaded cartridge in the breach of a gun after target practice. The public seems as little inclined as the authorities to accept the published version. Officers and men of the battery have not been arrested but are confined to the barracks and by military regulations are so strictly under restraint that it is impossible for the culprit or culprits to escape until responsibility is determined.

It can not be said definitely whether the affair was an accident or the result of design. The general belief is that a widespread plot did not exist, but evidence of a design are so apparent that the statement attributing the presence of a loaded shell of a previous target practice evoked smiles in many quarters. It is pointed out as being highly improbable that the gun had not been cleaned for two days and it is impossible that a second cartridge could be inserted for saluting purposes behind the first and it is certainly a startling coincidence that the gun containing the missile should be trained directly on the imperial chapel. Whatever may be the solution, it is a strange fact that the shot came from the house esplanade, where was stationed the First horse artillery of the guard, the premier artillery organization of the empire and one of the most noted regiments in the whole Russian service. The roster of this organization has included some of the most illustrious names in Russia.

Military experts say indications point to a charge consisting of grape having been surreptitiously inserted in a saluting cartridge. If this was the case probably only one man was involved. Certainly if there was an extensive, deep laid plot, or if an officer was involved, it was badly executed. It is pointed out that it is hardly probable an expert artilleryman should have prepared a weak, scattering charge which could hardly carry across the Neva. At the same time an indication of design is the fact that the gun was laid directly against the imperial pavilion. Had the gun contained a service charge or regular shell the pavilion would have been destroyed. It is clear, however, that the saluting was done most recklessly, as flashes of the blank shots from St. Peter and St. Paul fortress showed the guns were directed straight at the winter palace.

MEN, WOMEN, DOGS VOTED IN COLORADO

Investigation of Fraud Continues Uninterrupted.

Democratic Officers Gave Instructions to the Repeaters On Duty.

MR. NIEDRINGHAUS MAY LOSE

Denver, Col., Jan. 20. The examination of witnesses in the Peabody and Adams contest continued yesterday. Two witnesses swore that they voted many times under different names. One of them made the statement that the repeaters were instructed by Chief Delaney to vote as often as they could.

W. S. Raymond, a supreme court watcher cited a case in which a man who gave the name of "A. Dog," was permitted to vote.

Had for Niedringhaus.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 20.—The eight members of the legislature who voted against Niedringhaus for United States senator, last night gave out a statement in which they give various reasons for their action and justify the course they have pursued on the ground that it is for the best interests of the party. They declare they will continue to vote against Niedringhaus.

No Election Today.

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 20.—The fourth joint senatorial ballot today resulted: Niedringhaus, 80; Cockrell, 81; Kerens, 9; Pettijohn, 1. No election, and both houses adjourned until Monday.

GETS A RUN.

Colored Mail Clerk of Paducah Is Assigned.

Clarksville, Tenn., Jan. 20.—Frank Jones, a negro from Paducah Ky., has been appointed railway postal clerk on the Gracely accommodation, which runs between Clarksville and Gracely, Ky. This is the first time that a negro has ever held this position in this section. He entered upon his duties today, succeeding Ed. Johnson, who for the past two months has been acting as a substitute.

The clerk mentioned is a son of Frank Jones, the colored barber, and is a graduate of the Paducah public colored schools.

MITCHELL WON.

Man Who Yesterday Abused Him Was Expelled.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 20.—A mild turbulent scene in the miners' convention today. President John Mitchell declared that Delegate Randall, of Wyoming, who abused him yesterday, must leave the organization, or Mitchell would. Randall absolutely refused to apologize and was expelled from the organization.

The trouble started yesterday, when Randall accused President Mitchell of having sold out the Colorado striking miners to the operators of having been a traitor to the miners' organization and of having entered into a conspiracy with the mine owners, D. M. Parry and Governor Peabody's peace organization to ruin the Colorado miners and lose them the recent strike.

Seven Carloads of Gifts.

Tokio, Jan. 20.—In recognition of the work of the army the emperor today sent nine carloads of gifts to officers and men in the field. The celebration of the capture of Port Arthur was continued today by the business men.

Jackson, Tenn., Fire.

Jackson, Tenn., Jan. 20.—Fire last night partially destroyed the handsome residence of Sol. Tinchfield. The damage is estimated at $2,000, insurance $4,500 on household goods, piano, etc., will not cover the loss.

Bishop McCloskey Ill.

Louisville, Jan. 20.—The Rt. Rev. Bishop McCloskey is seriously ill at his rectory here.

This gift of the gab will not do the work of the grace of God.

CIGARETTES CAUSE WOMAN TO SUICIDE

She Smoked Them Until She Couldn't Stop.

Three Italians Burned to Death—Seven Men Killed By Cave-In In Arkansas.

AN ILLINOIS MAN SUICIDES

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Unable to stop smoking cigarettes, Mrs. Sadie Thompson, wife of the sexton of Oak Park Episcopal church, committed suicide here.

Three Burned to Death.

New York, Jan. 20.—By the burning of a shack near the public ash dump this morning, three Italians, two men and a woman, were cremated.

Seven Killed.

Antoine, Ark., Jan. 20.—Seven men were buried alive under a great mass of dirt and rock as the result of a cave-in in a deep cut five miles north of Antoine on the Gordon and Fort Smith railroad.

The dead: ED MINER, L. M. BENNETT, J. SWEENEY, FRANK E. HESS, PAT MULLIGAN, JIM GRASER, FRANK HAGEN.

All were white men. It is not known here where the homes of them are or whether they have any families or other relatives. All the men who were killed came here with a large number of others from St. Louis, and nothing was known about them locally.

Suicided at Hotel.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 20.—George G. Stribling of Virginia, Ill., committed suicide last night at a hotel in Springfield by shooting himself.

TRAFFIC TIED UP.

Because of a Fire At Terre Haute Today.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 20.—The Terre Haute Traction and Light Plant was damaged a hundred thousand dollars by fire this morning. Street car traffic is tied up and business generally suspended for want of power.

CIRCUS RIDER

Is to Be Hanged for Killing His Little Son.

Kansas City, Jan. 20.—A verdict of guilty with the death penalty was returned today against Martin Spoyer, a circus rider who cut the throat of his little son while the latter was asleep.

SENATOR SMOOT

Took the Stand Today in His Own Behalf.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Senator Smoot took the stand in his own behalf today. He denied there was anything in the endorsement house obligations which prevented him taking the oath of United States senator. He said he made no mental reservation when he took the oath.

Character is simply the product of all our choices.

CHILDREN FREEZE AFTER LOSING WAY

Casualties in Hungarian Elections are Growing.

Strikers in Russia On the March—In German Coal Fields There Has Been Bloodshed.

MOUNT EVEREST MEASURED.

Vienna, Jan. 20.—Intense cold prevails in Moravia, and snow has fallen to a depth of several feet. A number of fatalities is reported. Several children who were returning from school at the village Krasno, were overtaken by a heavy snow storm and lost their way, and were later found in a field all frozen to death. Many factory hands have lost their lives.

Hungarian Election Fatalities.

Vienna, Jan. 20.—Reports of casualties in the recent general elections in Hungary continue to be reported, and to date there have been four deaths, and 82 injuries.

Strikers Begin Marching.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—The striking workmen ranks which are swelled by their great number of sympathizers have begun marching. The masters again declared they would not concede the strikers' demands and at once the processions began to form. It is feared, if the parading continues, that some of the fire brands among the strikers will precipitate trouble. Troops have been sent to patrol the works.

Bloodshed in Germany.

Berlin, Jan. 20.—The coal strike which is spreading throughout the mining district of Germany has resulted in further bloodshed. A clash occurred between the police and strikers near Montebell, and it is reported that two were killed and twenty wounded at Dorstfeld. The strikers threaten to cut off the ears of strikebreakers and thus indelibly brand them as traitors.

Highest Peak in World.

London, Jan. 20.—A dispatch to the Standard from Calcutta says that the Thibet survey mission has established the fact that Mount Everest is the highest peak in the world.

TODAY'S DEATHS

MR. JOE F. GREIF, A POPULAR MAN, IS DEAD.

Death in the County—Well-Known Woman Passed Away in Murray.

Mr. Joseph Greif, after a several weeks' illness from abscess of the liver, died yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at his home in Rowlandtown. An operation performed several days ago was unavailing, and hope was abandoned yesterday.

Mr. Greif was born in this county and was 56 years old. He was for many years one of the best known butchers on the market, but retired three years ago, and had since been residing in Rowlandtown.

He was not only well known, but also a well liked man, and hundreds of friends will regret to learn that he is dead.

He leaves a wife and five children, three daughters and two sons. He also leaves two brothers, Mr. George Greif, of the Lack Singletree Company, and Mr. Adrian Greif, of Epworth, and a sister, Mrs. Carrie Mitchell, of the city, and a half brother, Mr. Victor Greif, and two half-sisters, Misses Augusta and Lena Greif, of the city.

The funeral will take place at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning from the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church. Burial at Mt. Carmel cemetery in the county.

The pall-bearers will be Messrs. Stephen Menard, Henry Goebel, John Theobald, W. J. White, Geo. Welkel, John Dorlan.

Mr. H. H. Worley, the well-known I. C. carman, was called to Murray this morning by the death of his

A TRIPLE TRAGEDY WITH SHOT GUNS

Three Men Killed and One is in Jail.

Kansas Marshal Shoots Editor—Neglect Results in Death of a Child.

THE SHAPER MURDER MYSTERY

Roanoke, Va., Jan. 20.—Meager details of a triple tragedy in Franklin county, twenty miles south of Roanoke yesterday, reached here today. James Ashire and his son fought a revolver and shotgun duel with L. A. Pradd and a man named Holley, as a result of which the three first named are dead and Holley, who escaped injury, is said to be in jail. It is said one of the four men is alleged to have insulted the wife of one of the other three.

After the first round it is said the two Ashires and Pradd were on the ground wounded. One of the Ashires is said to have reloaded his shotgun and deliberately blew Pradd's head off.

Killed an Editor.

Wilson, Kan., Jan. 20.—City Marshal Tillman shot and killed Sam Huddleston, postmaster and editor of a paper here, and then committed suicide. Several days ago Tillman whipped Huddleston's boy and the latter scored the marshal in his paper. Today they met and quarreled.

Hard-Hearted Doctors.

Paris, Ill., Jan. 20.—At the corner's inquest on 14-year-old Annie Cook who burned to death, it developed that several physicians refused to attend the child because the father was unable to pay their fees in advance.

No New Evidence.

Bedford, Ind., Jan. 20.—No evidence except that which was investigated and repudiated by the grand jury against Frank Evans and Elmer Browning, under arrest charged with the murder of Miss Sarah Schafer. The rumors that a woman, not heretofore identified with the case was to be arrested are seemingly without foundation.

BLOODHOUNDS OUT.

On Trail of a Desperate Negro Brute.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 20.—Bloodhounds are on the trail of a negro who assaulted two women early this morning. He assaulted Mrs. Wm. Jones with a revolver and cowhide, breaking a finger and cutting seven gashes in her head to the bone. He was frightened away and entered the home of a man named Wagner, shot Wagner in the arm and breast and assaulted Mrs. Wagner and escaped.

Locates in Golconda.

Mr. I. T. Spalding, formerly in the undertaking business here, has purchased the business of Mr. E. Shenk, of Golconda, Ill., and passed through Paducah this morning en route to Henderson to move his family to Golconda. He succeeds a man who has been in business in Golconda for the past 27 years.

Jury Couldn't Agree.

New Ulm, Minn., Jan. 20.—The jury in the case of Dr. George Koch, tried for the alleged murder of a rival dentist, Dr. Gebhart, announced this morning that it was unable to agree and was discharged.

Mother, Mrs. Julia Worley, widow of Mr. E. D. Worley, who died about a year ago.

Mrs. Worley died yesterday afternoon of a complication of diseases resulting from a broken hip. She was injured in December. She was 71 years old and came to Kentucky from South Carolina where she was born in 1849. She leaves four daughters and three sons and the funeral was held this morning at 10 o'clock from the residence in Murray, interment at West Fork cemetery.

Mr. M. V. Bynum, aged 65, died yesterday afternoon at his home near Maxon's Mills from consumption, after a long illness. He left a family. The funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock, burial at Palestine cemetery.

THE TEACHERS

REGULAR LITERARY MEETING WILL BE HELD.

After This the Grade Meetings Will Take Place At the Same Place.

This afternoon the teachers' regular monthly literary meeting will be held at the High school, and following it will come the grade meetings, the latter being consolidated for the convenience of teachers and pupils alike.

Grade meetings are held for the purpose of letting teachers keep together in their course and have proven successful in every particular. Teachers dismissed every Tuesday but in the week when the literary meeting comes, the grade meetings will be held on Friday. Instead of Tuesday. This prevents teachers from losing time with their classes by dismissing early two afternoons in one week, when one will answer. The literary meeting this afternoon is in charge of Prof. J. T. Ross and the following program has been arranged:

- Reading Circle.
- January 20, 1905.
1. Federal Education—Miss Johnson.
 2. The Crusades—Miss Rook.
 3. The Rise of the Universities, Mohammed, Mohammedan Education—Mrs. Taylor.
 4. The Renaissance and Humanistic Education—Miss Bonds.
 5. Martin Luther and the Reformation—Miss Singleton.
 6. Other Protestant Educators—Miss Thomas.
 7. The Jesuits and Their Educators—Mrs. Wilcox.
 8. General Discussion—Other educators of the 16th century.

Following the literary meeting will come the grade meetings and the program is as follows.

Subject for Grade Meeting January 20, 1905:

During the first month at school, what should be the nature and extent of the work done by the grades in the following subjects: Reading, Spelling, Writing, Drawing, Language, Numbers, Geography, History, Civics, Hygiene?

MAYOR HURT.

Fell in Front of the City Hall Last Night.

Mayor D. A. Yelger was sore this morning and could hardly get about in his office. Last night shortly after the aldermen meeting the mayor was walking down the steps of the city hall and on reaching the pavement, slipped and was thrown to the ground. He alighted on his left arm and side and was badly skinned and bruised. The accident did not hurt until this morning, when the soreness began to tell, and it is fortunate the mayor escaped without serious injuries.

DENSE FOG.

Causes Much Inconvenience to Railroad Men.

Railroad men had a hard time this morning with the fog which was about as dense as seen in this section this winter.

It was so thick that yard men had to put out "fuses" on the rear and front end of engines and then had to barely crawl with their big machines for fear of running into something.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Drew, of Dawson Springs, have returned home after a several days' stay here.

Theatrical Notes

The many people on the stage during the performances of George Ade's notable spectacular comedy, "The County Chairman," (not a musical comedy) which Henry W. Savage offers at The Kentucky on Friday night, January 27, do not merely form a background. They each represent distinct village type and many of them have important parts. You will recognize the village smart Aleck, the old G. A. R. veteran, the fellows who hang around the depot, those who always line up at the post-office and never get any mail, the oldest inhabitant, the village dress-maker, who is a flirt; the man who keeps the general store, the station agent, the noisy fellow who is always talking about subjects that he only understands vaguely, the tousled haired boy who has been swimming; the village orphan who waits on the table at the boarding house, and others. "The County Chairman" ran for 259 performances in New York and 110 performances in Chicago and has been pronounced by the press generally as the greatest American play of modern times. Seats on sale Thursday morning at 10 a. m.

"Nothing succeeds like success," is an old saw but nevertheless a true one, and it has never been more emphatically demonstrated than in the case of Miss Eva Tanguay. It was not until about four years ago that one knew anything about "The Tanguay," although she has been on the stage since she was eleven years old. Perhaps the greatest amount of distinction vouchsafed "the Tanguay" arose from her singing the coon song "My Shoo-bee" now so familiar to all lovers of "rag time" music.

Miss Tanguay and her fine supporting company will present "The Sambo Girl" at The Kentucky on Wednesday night, January 25. Seats on sale Tuesday morning 10 a. m.

During the engagement of "Everyman" in New York, Chicago and other large cities, the scale of prices charged was 75 cents to $2. Some doubt seems to exist here as to the prices to be charged at the Kentucky for the "Everyman" engagement.

Manager English announces that he has arranged with the representative of the company to make prices $1 to 50c so that the engagement will be within the reach of all. Though the prices have been considerably reduced the production is guaranteed to be identically the same as given in Chicago recently.

THREE BIG DAYS.

Efforts Now Being Made to Get Special Rates for Carnival.

The Paducah Carnival Association is in correspondence with the railroads running into Paducah for the purpose of securing reduced rates for three days of the carnival. It is the intention of the association to have three "big days" during the week, and the members desire to make all arrangements as far ahead of time as possible. There is a great deal of red tape about arranging special rates with railroads, and the matter has accordingly been taken up now.

Special Meeting.

A special meeting is hereby called this evening at 7:30, of Catholic Knights and Ladies of America at White & Sirk's store, 311 Broadway, to take suitable action on the death of Brother Joseph Greif.

Is Out of Danger.

Miss Ella Crow, who yesterday took a dose of poison through mistake, is today out of danger, her many friends will be glad to learn. The patient, who is a daughter of Coroner Crow, has been using an eye wash which contained a deadly poison. She has also been taking another medicine for neuralgia, which impaired her eyesight, and yesterday on account of her impaired vision she got the wrong bottle, and took the eye wash instead of the other medicine. For sometime her life was in danger, but she was finally restored to consciousness, and is now out again.

Daily Thought.

The most arduous task a reformer has to execute is to make people think.—Noah Webster.

The Weather.

Fair tonight and Saturday.

A TRUANT OFFICER.

The Lexington, Ky., schools are much larger than the Paducah schools, although there are colleges and universities in Lexington that ought, to some extent, to reduce the attendance in the public schools. The city of Lexington has to pay the schools $66,000 this year where the general council in Paducah is asked to pay the schools here only $35,000.
It seems strange that the assessment of our own property cannot be made such as to get something like the proper amount of money for the schools. The children in many instances, now have to walk long distances to school, and some of the rooms are crowded. New schools are needed on both the north and the south sides, and they can't be built because the maximum per cent of taxes allowed under the charter does not bring money enough.

The Lexington Herald takes a sensible view of school questions and what it says of Lexington is equally true in some instances in Paducah.
It declared yesterday:

"It was announced in yesterday's paper that the school board asks the city of Lexington to produce $66,000 of the school fund for the coming year. It is further announced that in estimating the expenses for 1905, the salary of a truant officer was not counted among them. We have no information beyond this statement; we believe the public has none. We tender the use of The Herald columns to the president of the school board, the superintendent of schools, or any member of the school board to further inform the public on the subject—
If any one of them considers the public worthy of this information.

"At the last session of the legislature a compulsory education law was passed, one section of which reads:
"In the first week of July each year the board of education in each city of the first, second, third and fourth classes, shall appoint one person for each three thousand pupils, or fraction thereof, to serve as truant officer, etc."

"The law is mandatory; it leaves no discretion with the school boards, unless they wish to be law-breakers.
It is directory as to time; these officers should be appointed in the first week of July; if a school board fails to comply with the law at that time however, it does not invalidate the law requiring the appointment of officers; the people do not lose their right under the law to have these officers appointed, by that negligence of the board."

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING.

The agitation about purchasing the water works in Paducah, started by the mayor's recommendation in his annual address, is entirely uncalled for, and seems to be the result of an inexcusable lack of official information.

The city of Paducah cannot exercise any option this or next year to appraise and purchase the water works, nor any other year until 1909.

The reason of this is the plain provision in the original franchise ordinance, which says: Section 9, "The city shall have the option and privilege at the expiration of five years
FROM THE PASSAGE OF THIS ORDINANCE, and at the expiration of every five years thereafter, upon giving six months' notice in writing, to purchase said works and all property connected therewith at a fair valuation," etc.

The ordinance was passed Sept.
30th, 1884, and the first time the city could have exercised the option of purchase was in 1889, and then in the following years: 1894, 1899, 1904, 1909. Last year the city could have exercised its option, but nothing was done about it and it will now be 1909 before the city has another opportunity. Mayor Yelser will then be out of office.

There is an amendment to the original ordinance which strikes out from Section 3 the words "from and after the passage and approval of this ordinance," and substitutes
"From and after the completion and acceptance of said works," etc., but Section 3 refers only to the rental of hydrants by the city, and the amendment above was adopted simply in order to release the city from having to pay rental on the hydrants before the system was complete.

It is very plain that the mayor has overlooked his hand in taking up a matter that cannot be considered until he has retired from office.

It is asserted that the city will see that the Broadway blutillie paving "is kept in repair for five years." We doubt it. The city will probably do nothing of the kind. It said the same thing about Broadway from First to Fifth street, and then finally itself had to do all the repaving that was ever done, and that was precious little. By the way, why was nothing ever done in regard to repaving the brick street built by Patterson & Porteous?

The democrats need not felicitate so soon over the provision of the charter that enabled the mayor to put in a democrat last night when one of the aldermen resigned. A president of the board has not yet been elected, and the republicans can afford to wait as long as any of the others.

FALSE WORK FELL AT THE NEW BRIDGE

The Strong Current and Heavy Drift Caused Accident.The Loss in Labor, Time and Material Will Be Probably $5,000,
If Not More.

BRIDGE PROPER IS INTACT

Yesterday morning the false wood work put up by the Kelley-Atkinson Co., contractors, who have charge of putting up the steel work on Tennessee river bridge, was washed away in drift wood and will delay
the work of putting up the steel.

The river brought down a great deal of drift and the current finally washed away the false work which is put up before the iron is set in position.

Four panels of floor work was washed away and it will require some little time to replace it. The bridge men estimate damage to the extent of about $5,000 in delay, in-labor and material. No one was hurt.

General Manager W. J. Harahan, of the I. C., passed through the city this morning en route to Hillsboro to inspect the bridge. He will probably go to Louisville from there.

TAX CASES CAME UP IN COUNTY COURT

No Definite Action Taken in Any of Them.A Number of Defendants Will Fight
the Cases—Large Police Court Docket.

OTHER LOCAL COURT NEWS

Revenue Agent Tillman Albritton
and his counsel, Attorney Spalding, have been busy with the suits brought against wholesale merchants and manufacturing concerns for back taxes on personal property, but nothing has been done in the way of a legal compromise in any of the cases as far as the county records show.

In the cases against Loeb executors, Geo. O. Hart & Sons Co., M.
Hloom, Loeb, Hloom & Co. and the Paducah Co-operative Co. a motion was filed by the agent moving the court not to require him to verify the petitions, which was overruled in the case against Geo. O. Hart & Sons Co., and continued as to the others, but this virtually means the overruling of the motions in the other cases.

In the case of the Paducah Cooperative Co. in which two suits were filed, one for $50,000 and the other for $100,000, the former was dismissed and the agent elected to sue in the latter.

A judgment was filed in the case against the city of Paducah where the city is sued for an assessment on property. Judge Lightfoot holding that no property mentioned in the suit was subject to taxation.

Circuit Court.

The defendant's motion for a judgment notwithstanding the verdict for the plaintiff for $69 in the case of Woodson against the N. C. and St. L. road, was overruled and the verdict ordered carried into effect. Woodson sued for the loss of some box niles.

The case of W. A. Derrington against the Langstaff-Orme Mfg. Co. was on trial at press time. Derrington claims a balance due of $329 for services as logger.

The case of Sharp against Robertson was dismissed.

The case of the Carroll Portland Cement Co. against H. M. Canning-ham was continued.

Motion to Be Heard.

Attorney Hal Corbett leaves Sunday for St. Louis to defend Col. Zach Mulhall, and from there goes to Uniontown, Pa., to argue the motion for a new trial in the case of James Ezell, the young Mayfield man convicted of murdering a railroad official who had discharged him.

Taking Depositions.

Attorney John K. Hendrick has gone to Smithland to take depositions in the suit of Mann against Lugenbach over possession of valuable mining lands in his district. Col. Hendrick does not expect to return until tomorrow.

County Court.

Emory Voight has filed suit in county court against G. F. Jones and others for $225 claimed to be due him for watching barges and other floating property of the defendant up Tennessee river. Attachments were taken out against the barges.

The Globe Hank and Trust Co. was appointed administrator of the estate of Myrl Sands.

Nicy Davis has qualified as administratrix of the estate of Ella Davis.

Bankruptcy Cases.

Tomorrow several bankrupt cases will come up, for hearing of motions and such preliminary work, before Referee Hagby.

They are the cases of Dryfus &
Brother; John H. Hobson and M. E.
Pate. Nothing of importance is attached to the hearing of the cases.
The Pate case is a first meeting of creditors.

Police Court.

Police Judge D. L. Sanders held court in a nicely decorated courtroom this morning, the decorations for the Robt. E. Lee celebration last night not yet having been removed.

Mary Jeffries, colored, who is alleged to have stolen $45 from Geo.
to have stolen it from a young man Shaw, was arraigned, part of the evidence heard and the case left open until tomorrow morning.

A. Cornelson, white, charged with going to a blacksmith and having work done and charged to another person, was granted a continuance.

TO MOVE OFFICES.

General Freight Headquarters of I. C. Go to Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 20.—Information reached the city yesterday direct from Louisville, Ky., that the general freight office of the Illinois Central railroad for Southern lines would be moved to Memphis February 1. The information was verified yesterday afternoon.

C. C. Cameron, general freight agent for the Southern lines of the Illinois Central railroad, will move his offices and force, said to consist of over thirty clerks, to Memphis and will probably occupy the building now occupied by the local general offices of the road at the northwest corner of Main and Madison streets.

PICNICS DANGEROUS.

Head of Archdiocese Lays Down Rigid Rules Regarding Outings and Church Fairs.

Cincinnati, Jan. 1.—In a pastoral letter sent to the priests of this diocese, Archbishop Moeller lays down some rigid rules regarding church fairs and picnics. He says that fairs, picnics, excursions and excursions often give occasion to scenes and acts which are not above reproach.

"We feel disposed peremptorily to forbid them, but fearing lest we might thereby embarrass some pastors, we deem it sufficient for the present to make known this, our decided opposition to such proceedings."

The letter then repeats former rules governing such matters, particularly emphasizing the prohibition of fairs, picnics on Sundays and the prohibition of wheels of fortune and slot machines on any day. The elimination of dancing from church entertainments and early closing of fairs on Saturday night are urged.

The archbishop also forbids appeals to the general public for assistance or the collection of money at the church doors as an entrance to services.

A LITTLE LATE DOPE
FOR LOCAL FANS

Paducah Will Vote for Paducah's Interests Alone.

K. I. T. Chiles Will Probably Have to Depend on Home Patronage Hereafter.

CALIFORNIA WANTS HEDGES

Some of the so-called "sporting editors" in Kitty league towns display a crying lack of common sense in writing about the prospects of the coming season. One of them has the audacity to say that when it comes to a vote on changing the constitution so a club can get that part of the proceeds of a game it is entitled to, instead of having to give half to a club that can't pay expenses even at home, "Paducah will be found voting with Hopkinsville, Clarksville, Henderson and Owensboro."

Some seem to think that because Owensboro is talking of joining the league, that Owensboro's representatives will be at the meeting here January 29 and vote with the clubs that already belong. Owensboro will probably not even join the league, for the promoters of baseball there know that they cannot support a club unless they are guaranteed half of the gate receipts in other places, and for that reason openly say that Owensboro will not be a member of the league if the constitution is changed. As it is at present, one of the non-paying clubs can go to another place and take either half of the gate receipts, or a $30 guarantee. The club is sure of the $30, because it is guaranteed, and in case of a big crowd gets half if it wants it—and, of course it does. Under the rules as they will be changed, each club will get a certain amount, $40 probably, for every away-from-home game, no more and no less, and for the big wads of money it must depend on the attendance in its home town, when it will get all the gate receipts, except the $40 that goes to the visiting club.

This change is probably what the new constitution will show before the season opens, and when Paducah's vote is counted, it will no doubt be found voting with Cairo and Vincennes.

"Skeet" Hedges, the Paducah pitcher who belongs to the Milwaukee team, this morning received a letter from Oakland, Cal., from the manager of the team there saying he would like to have Hedges and Gerard, Paducah's crack third baseman. Both are reserved and can not leave, Hedges having to remain with Milwaukee and Gerard with Paducah.

The official records show that more "rain days" fell to the record of Vincennes the last season than any other city in the Kitty league and yet the attendance was better in many respects than in other cities.

Secretary Farnbaker thinks that Vincennes is a hot ball town and the ladies attend more regularly than men. The ladies fill the grand stand on ladies' day and when not admitted free are well represented. If Vincennes had not experienced so many rain days, Secretary Farnbaker declared during a recent visit to Paducah, "she would have come right up to Cairo and Paducah in gate receipts."

Yesterday's Louisville Times says: "Mr. R. W. Whitehead, of Bowling Green, Ky., has been in Louisville for several days arranging for the opening of an amusement park in Bowling Green with baseball as the chief feature. Mr. Whitehead had several conferences with George Te-beau and Mr. Thomas Barker, of the Louisville baseball club, and got valuable information from them as to how to proceed in securing baseball players. It is Mr. Whitehead's intention to get one of the minor league clubs of the K. I. T. to play in Bowling Green. He thinks the prospects are bright for carrying out the scheme."

Dr. Irvin Thompson, formerly president of the Kitty league, arrived from Mayfield this morning. "I don't want any more baseball in mine as far as being a league officer is concerned," he declared, "and whoever gets the presidency will get his share of abuse from all sides."

President Thompson further stated that the talk of the presidency going to Mr. John W. Keller of this city was all bosh as Mr. Keller could not hold it because he owned stock in a club and no one owning stock in a club could occupy such a position.

Mr. Frank Bassett, of Hopkinsville, who last year umpired in the Cotton States league, returned home at noon after a short business trip to the city.

Mr. Bassett was first an umpire in the Kitty league and later went to the Cotton States league, and is the only umpire in the latter league to make good in the Southern, where he will officiate this season.

A Bee's Sting. The sting is a bee's only weapon. It is not the single spear that it appears to the naked eye, but consists of three prongs, each beautifully grooved into the others, thus forming a sort of tube, through which flows the poison from the sac, to which the sting is attached. As soon as the point of the sting enters the flesh two of the prongs, which are barbed, begin to work forward alternately. When one has been thrust forward its barbs catch in the flesh and hold while the other is being thrust forward, and this motion, which also pumps the poison from the poison sac, is continued until the sting has penetrated to its full length. The sting, accompanied by its appendages, is almost invariably torn from the bee and remains in the flesh of the unfortunate victim—unfortunate bee, too, as the loss of its sting is eventually followed by death. Hence it can be said that a bee liberally defends its home with its life.

Fly Eggs as Food. On Lake Texcoco, in Mexico, a curious fly is found, which is eaten by the natives and known as ahuali. The eggs of the insect, which are deposited on sedges, are also collected and eaten for food. On Lake Chalco a certain sedge is cultivated, on which the eggs of a species of fly are deposited. Hundreds are made of these and placed in Lake Texcoco for the purpose, and when covered the sedge is beaten over pieces of cloth and the eggs are secured. These are collected and ground into a meal, also called ahuali, and are in great demand on fast days when fish is required, the insects or eggs not being considered flesh, as they come from the water. The food is made into small cakes and tastes not unlike caviare. Not only the eggs, but the larvae, themselves a disagreeable looking worm, are used as food under the name of puxi.

On Indian Courtship. Among the Ona Indians of Tierra del Fuego courtship is not precisely a tender affair. When the girl is from a friendly group the gallant presents her with his hunting bow. If the girl returns it by her own hand it is a sign of acceptance, but if by the hand of a messenger it is a refusal. But refusals are not common. The persevering brave watches for an opportunity which brings him alone with the object of his affection. He then commands her to follow him with all speed through the bush to his own camp. The girls are prone to yield prompt obedience, for a disappointed suitor may emphasize his displeasure by an arrow directed lightly at the thigh or at her calves, the especial vanity of an Ona belle.

Cured Lumbago. A. H. Cannon, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another; then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of former sufferers." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Paducah Man Held. Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 20.—At the examining trial of H. W. Pool, of Paducah, before Judge Fowler here, Pool was held to circuit court on a charge of disposing of mortgaged property with fraudulent intention. He gave bond for $250.

Over the Border

By...
ROBERT BARR.

Copyright, 1903, by Frederick A. Stokes Co.

Author of "Jennie Baxter, Journalist," Etc.

"Is it difficult for you to say 'father'?" My other children pronounce the word glibly enough. When you and I first met, and even since then, you seemed not backward in speech."

"Sir, I find myself more afraid of you than I was at the beginning."

Stratford smiled, but answered: "I assure you there is no need. I may be an implacable enemy, but I have the reputation of being as staunch a friend. So tomorrow is your birthday, and I am here to tell you that it is also the date of your mother's death. That is a loss for which a man in my onerous position cannot even partially atone, but it is a loss which you perhaps have not keenly felt. It seems heartless to speak thus, but the fact remains that we cannot deeply deplore the departure of what we have never enjoyed. One thing I can covenant that you shall not hereafter know the lack of money, which is something to promise in a city of shops."

"I have never known the lack of it, my lord."

"Have you indeed been so fortunate? Well, there again you bear a resemblance to your father. Sir John was reputed comfortably off in the old days, and I infer he harbored his wealth, a somewhat difficult task in times gone by. Are you, then, his heir?"

"One of two, my lord."

"Ah, yes. I had momentarily forgotten the brother who favors his grandfather rather than his sire. I am like to be over the border tomorrow to attend the marriage of either mercer or goldsmith, and if I did I should not know what to purchase that would please you. My what catches your fancy and flatter your father by naming it his gift. I am a very tired and small not rise early tomorrow. Do not wait breakfast for me. Good night, daughter."

"Good night, father."

Although he had said the last conventional words of the day, he still stood there as if loath to retire; then he stepped and kissed her on the lips, ruffling her black wayward, curly hair, so like his own in texture, color and freedom from restraint, and patting her affectionately on the shoulder.

"You will not be afraid of me from this time forward, child?" he asked. "Indeed, father, I grow superstitious as I become older, and I look on your strange arrival as in some measure providential. There is none of my own kind to whom I can speak freely, as I did to you in the carriage. My daughters—my other daughters—are too young. My Lady Stratford takes much interest in her garden and dislikes this London house and this London town, for which small blame is to be imputed to her. In your man's courage is added to a woman's wit, and who knows but my daughter may prove the reinforcement I lacked in my battling fight with the museum?"

"I hope I shall not disappoint you, sir, though I am but a country maid, with some distrust of this great city and its court."

"City and court are things we get specially accustomed to. Well, again good night, sweetheart, and sleep soundly. I see those dark eyes are already heavy with slumber."

But sleep came not so quickly as he surmised to the eyes he had complimented. The day had been too full of rapid change and tense excitement. The strange transformation of the present, and the dim, troubled vista of the future which opened out to her, cherished thought and discouraged slumber. Was it possible that she was thus to be transplanted, was to stand by the side of the greatest man in England, his acknowledged daughter, his welcome aid? God grant she might not fail him if he had real need of her. And so she planned the days to come. She would be as subtle as the craftiest. She would cover all dislikes as the cloak had covered her, and her lips should smile though her heart revolted. Her tongue must measure what it said, and all rural bluntness should disappear.

She slipped from these meditations into a hazy, bewildering condition; her father, somehow, was in a danger that she could not fathom, she lacking power to get to him, restrained by invisible bonds, not knowing where he was, although he called to her. Then it seemed there was a turmoil in the street, a cry for help, a groan and silence, and next Mrs. Jarrett was moving about the room and had drawn curtains that let in a gray, misty daylight.

"Is my father yet risen?" she cried.

"Oh, good luck, no, your ladyship, nor will he for hours to come."

"The girl's head fell back on her pillow, and she said dreamily, 'I thought there had been trouble of some sort and men fighting.'"

"Indeed, your ladyship, and so there was, a rioting going on all the night. I think the citizens of London are gone mad, howling in the street at hours when decent folk should be in their beds. 'Tis said that this new parliament is the cause, but how or why I do not know."

Although the Earl of Stratford did not quit his chamber until midnight, he was undoubtedly concerned with affairs that demanded attention from the greatest minister of state. There were constant runnings to and fro, messengers dispatched and envoys received, with the heavy knocker of the door constantly a-rap. It was two hours after midnight when Stratford sent for his daughter, and she followed his messenger to the library, where she found her father in his chair beside a table, although he was equipped for going forth from the house. There had been word before him De Courcy, but the young man rose as she entered and greeted her with one of his down reaching bows which set her a-quake lest he should fall forward on his face.

"My child," said the Earl, "I am about to set out for parliament, and it may be late before I return. Yet I think you shall sup with me at 7 if all goes well and debate becomes not too strenuous, but do not wait in case I should be detained. I counsel you not to leave the house today, for there seem to be many brawlers on the streets. Any shopman will be pleased to wait upon you and bring samples of his wares, so send a servant for those you wish to consult. My friend De Courcy, here, begs the favor of some converse with you and speaks with my approval."

Stratford looked keenly at the girl, and her heart thrilled as she read the unspoken message with quick intuition. He had some use for De Courcy, and she must be suave and diplomatic. Thus already she was her father's ally, an outpost in his vast concerns now committed to her. The young man saw nothing of this, for he had eyes only for the girl. The broad rim of his feathered hat was at his snaking lips, and his gaze of admiration was as unmistakable as it was intent.

"Sir, I shall obey you in all things and hope to win your commendation," said Frances, with an inclination of the head.

"You are sure of the latter in any case, my child," replied Stratford, rising. "And now, De Courcy, I think we understand each other, and I may rely upon you."

"To the death, my lord," cried the young man, with another of his courtly courtesies.

"Oh, but as I hope it will not be necessary quite so far as that. I bid you good day. Tomorrow at this hour I shall look for a report from you. For the moment, goodbye, my daughter."

No sooner was the Earl out of the room and the door closed behind him than De Courcy, with an impetuous movement that startled the girl, flung himself at her feet. Her first impulse was to step quickly back, but she checked it and stood her ground.

"Oh, divine Frances!" he cried, "how impatiently I have waited for this moment when I might declare to you!"

"Sir, I beg of you to rise. 'Tis not seemly you should demean yourself thus."

"'Tis seems that the whole world should grovel at your feet, my lady of the free forest, for all who look upon you must love you, and for me, who have not the cold heart of this northern people, I adore you, and do here avow it."

"You take me at a disadvantage, sir. I have never been spoken to thus. I am but a child and unaccustomed; only sixteen this very day. I ask you to—"

"Most beautiful nymph! How many grand ladies of our court would give all they possess to make such confession truly. Aye, the queen herself. I do assure you, sweetest, such argument will never daunt a lover."

"I implore you, sir, to arise. My father may return."

"That he will not. And if he did 'twould pleasure him to see my suit advancing. I loved you from the first moment I beheld you, and, though you used me with continuity, yet I solaced my wounded heart that 'twas me you noticed, and me only, even though your glance was turned with scorn."

Notwithstanding a situation that called for tact, she was unable to resist a touch of the lingulate rapier, and her eyes twinkled with suppressed merriment as she said, "You forget, sir, that I also distinguished the keeper of the hounds with my regard;" but, seeing he winced, she recollected her position and added: "In truth, I was most charitably rude in the forest, and I am glad you spoke of it, that I now have opportunity to beg your pardon very humbly. I have learned since then that you stand high in my dear father's regard, and indeed he chided me for my violence, as 'twas his duty to do by a wayward child."

Pleasant and Most Effective.

T. J. Chambers, Ed. Vindicator,

Liberty, Texas, writes Dec. 25, 1902:

"With pleasure and unsolicited by you, I hear testimony to the curative power of Ballard's Horehound Syrup. I have used it in my family and can cheerfully affirm it is the most effective and pleasant remedy for coughs and colds I have ever used."

25c 50c and $1.00. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

DREAD OF HUMANITY

I am compelled by a sense of gratitude to tell you the great good your remedy has done me in a case of Contagious Blood Poison. Among other symptoms I was severely afflicted with Rheumatism, and got almost past going. The disease got a firm hold upon my system; my blood was thoroughly poisoned with the virus. I lost in weight, was run down, had sore throat, eruptions, spots and other evidences of the disease. I was truly in a bad shape when I began the use of S. S. S., but the persistent use of it brought me out of my trouble and I am now well and I have the courage to testify to the virtues of your great blood remedy, S. S. S., and to recommend it to all blood-poison sufferers, sincerely believing if it is taken according to directions, and given a fair trial, it will thoroughly eliminate every particle of the virus. JAMES CURRAN, Stark Hotel, Greensburg, Pa.

Painful swellings in the groin, red eruptions upon the skin, sores in the mouth and loss of hair and eyebrows, are some of the symptoms of this vile disease, S. S. S. is an antidote for the awful virus that attacks and destroys even the bones. S. S. S. contains no Mercury, Potash or other mineral ingredient. We offer $5.00 per proof that it is not absolutely verifiable. Home treatment book giving the symptoms and other interesting and valuable information about this disease, mailed free. Our physicians advise free those who write us.

You Get Up

In the morning tired, languid, and frequently with a headache that is almost unbearable. You have been nervous, restless and sleepless night after night, and gloomy and irritable during the day. This nervous exhaustion affects the heart, lungs and other organs that depend upon the nerves for motive power. Then the stomach fails to digest the food; the heart action is weak, and circulation poor, and the kidneys and liver inactive.

What you need is not a stomach, head, kidney or liver medicine, but Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic to soothe and feed the nerves and build nerve tissue.

"My wife was subject to severe mental strain, which resulted in nervous prostration. The first symptoms were uncontrollable crying and melancholy spells, which increased to such an extent that for over a year she would have a spell every day of from four to six hours duration. She required the constant attention of her physician and attendants. She suffered great pain and anguish. The best physicians attending her could give no relief, and she finally became almost of unsound mind. As a last resort I began giving her Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic, and not only did her spirits brighten, but she was able to get about, and she gradually appeared altogether. She has had no recurrence of the spell, and is gaining in health and strength."

J. P. OVERHOLSER, Sterling, Ill.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Tonic is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

THIS YEAR

THE ELKS' BUILDING MAY BE STARTED AND POSSIBLY COMPLETED.

No Definite Steps Taken, But Work Is Expected to Begin in a Short Time.

It is possible and according to the statement of one of the officers in the Elks' Building association, that work on the Elks' building to be erected across from the Kentucky, where the Terrell livery stable now stands, will be started this year. It may be started soon enough to complete the handsome building before next winter.

There has been nothing definite done by the association thus far, but the members seem anxious to reach an understanding. It is claimed that the association has exclusive control of the matter, and will in a short time meet and avail itself of its authority to let the contract and start work.

No difficulty is anticipated in securing the necessary funds. With the cash already on hand, and the bonds, it will be easily raised.

The building will be one of the finest in the city, and once started will be constructed with all possible speed.

CHOOSE OFFICERS.

Central Labor Union Also Indorsed Move to Dry Water Works.

Officers for the ensuing six months were last night elected by Central Labor Union, as follows:

Peter Smith, leatherworker, president; Charles Hart, blacksmith, vice-president; P. M. Martin, cigarmaker, recording and corresponding secretary; A. V. Scofield, blacksmith, guide; W. A. Downs, painter, guardian; Harry George, carpenter, roll clerk; Henry Rawlins, electrician; C. C. Haymann, caulker, and Eugene Copeland, cooper, trustees.

L. P. Head declined to allow the use of his name for president and Mr. Smith was unanimously re-elected.

The organization voted to give $10 a year to the Home of the Friendless and $3 a year to the Charity club.

A resolution was adopted indorsing the proposition to purchase the water works, and it was ordered that an address be prepared and presented to the legislative boards giving the reasons the unions think the city should buy the plant.

Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, L. L. D. Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm, which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Raft Broke Loose.

Charles and Henry Cole, of Gilbertsville Ky., yesterday arrived with a raft of logs for the Sowell mill, and report a most thrilling adventure while on their way down the Tennessee river. They attempted to slacken up the speed of the raft near the mouth of Clark's river, and the rope with which they attempted to moor it to the bank broke, with one of them on the raft. He floated helplessly down the river without means of reaching shore until his brother, who had gone ashore to tie up the raft, secured help and came after him. He was almost frozen when rescued.

Imperfect Digestion

Means less nutrition and in consequence less vitality. When the liver fails to secrete bile, the blood becomes loaded with billions of poisons, the digestion becomes impaired and the bowels constipated. Herbine will rectify this; it gives tone to the stomach, liver and kidneys, strengthens the appetite, clears and improves the complexion, infuses new life and vigor to the whole system. 50 cents a bottle. Sold by DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Mills Not Well Manned.

Fall River, Mass., Jan. 19.—While the great Textile strike has been declared off, there is no great rush of returning operatives at the mills this morning. One reason is that a great number of skilled operatives have left the city. It is expected the mills will be fairly well manned next week.

Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo With Iron

Makes Fat, Strength, Blood, Bone and Muscle.

If you are tired, broken down, despondent, worn out, pale, losing flesh, have no energy, do not feel like rising in the morning for the day's work, you need a bottle of this wonderful medicine. Do you want good rich red blood? Do you want the bloom to come back to the cheek? Are you convalescing after having fever, pneumonia or measles? Then you ought to take a bottle of EMULSO-HYPO. Its medicinal food that reaches every tissue in the body and builds you up. Taken in a little wine is as pleasant as cough syrup.

Read what the editor of the Meridian Star of Mississippi, A. G. Davis, writes under date of April 8:

"My mother took the Emulso-Hypo and has been greatly benefited. She is in better health than she has been in years."

J. W. Russell, county clerk of Hickman county, Tenn., writes:

"My wife has used several bottles of Emulso-Hypo with Iron and has been wonderfully improved. I can conscientiously recommend it for all lung trouble."

Rev. G. T. Sullivan, presiding elder of the Memphis district, writes under date of Dec. 1, 1903:

"My daughter, whose system was very much run down, has been taking your Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with Iron, and has improved so much with one bottle I have no doubt by continuance she will be fully restored in her nerve forces. I am delighted with the results and shall continue her on it. Wishing you prosperity, I am, yours truly, G. T. SULLIVAN."

KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHS

Robbers Escape On Hand Car.
Nortonville, Ky., Jan. 20.—Robbers attempted to sack the postoffice here but in trying to gain an entrance aroused Postmaster D. J. Franklin, who was sleeping in the building. Mr. Franklin immediately opened fire on the men, but they made their escape, and rushing to the Illinois Central depot secured a handcar, on which they rode to White Plains.

May Have Learned Name.
Mayfield, Ky., Jan. 20.—Mr. J. C. Hensley, one of the jurors on the case of the unknown man found east of the city sometime ago with his throat cut, says he remembers Pomp Ransdale and that he, since his attention has been called to the likeness, believes the dead man was Ransdale. An investigation will be made.

Deaths In Cadiz.
Cadiz, Ky., Jan. 20.—Mrs. Bettie Sivills Cunningham died at the home of her son, Dr. W. C. Cunningham of the infirmities of old age. Mrs. Cunningham was born in Trigg county, where she had lived all her life, and would have been ninety years old the 23d of next April. She was the widow of the late Mickins Cunningham, who preceded her to the grave over sixteen years. She was the last of a number of brothers and sisters to depart this life, and was a Daughter of the Revolution. Her father, Thomas Sivills, fought through the Revolutionary war, and was in the battle of New Orleans.

Four children survive her. They are B. W. Cunningham, Dr. W. C. Cunningham, Mrs. C. T. Hendrick, all of this county. She leaves four children forty-nine grandchildren, eighty-nine great-grandchildren, and six great-great-grandchildren. She had seen seven generations, which can be said by but few.

Mr. John H. Husk died three miles north of Cadiz, of a complication of diseases.

Mr. Husk was about 57 years old and leaves two children, Mrs. Dan H. Hillman and a small son.

A Dangerous Mission.
Lexington, Ky., Jan. 20.—Thomas Cockrill, the surviving leader of the Cockrill faction of Breathitt county and a brother of James Cockrill, for whose murder Curtis Jett is under death sentence and Wm. Britton is now on trial here, left for the lead-ridden community on a dangerous mission. He will be sworn in as special bailiff to go to the interior of Breathitt county, and arrest an independent witness for the state who has ignored summons and is said to be guarded by friends.

Cockrill tried to get friends to accompany him, and, failing, announced that he would undertake the mission single-handed and either bring the witness to Lexington or die in the attempt.

Gas Explosion.
Clay's Landing, Ky., Jan. 20.—An explosion of gas in one of the Greensburg Oil Company's wells on the Moxey farm demolished a diamond drill and did other damage to the extent of $600. Several workmen narrowly escaped with their lives.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.
The Y. M. C. A. is just now in process of reorganization. Secretary Godfrey is getting things in shape and is anxious to meet and know the people, especially the young men of the city.

On next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a religious service at the Association building conducted by the general secretary. This is open to all men from 16 years up, and they are most cordially invited to be present.

Secretary Godfrey's idea in conducting a successful Y. M. C. A. is to let the members of the Association have as much responsibility as possible. When it is regularly organized again he will appoint the committees to manage the gymnasium, etc., from among the men, realizing that the more they do the greater will be the interest felt.

The coming state convention at Owensboro, February 16-19, promises to be one of unusual magnitude and interest. A new feature will be an "Athletic meet" on the afternoon of Saturday the 18, in which all the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium students in the state can enter for competition. This is something on the order of the one held at the stadium in St. Louis during the Louisiana Purchase exposition. It will arouse much interest in gymnastic work, as the horizontal bar and all kinds of contests will be permitted. The Paducah members should begin practicing now. There are some good athletes members of the local association and should carry off some of the state honors.

CHINESE COLONY
Will Leave Paducah and Go to Memphis to Locate Shortly.

The death of Lin Sing, the Chinese laundryman, seems to have broken up the local Chinese colony. For many years Paducah has had Chinese laundrymen, there being half a dozen or more here now. Louisville has only three of the Celestials, but there has probably not been a time in fifteen or twenty years in Paducah that there were not more than that here.

A deal is now on by which the local laundries will buy out the Chinese, and the sale is expected to be completed this afternoon. The Paducah colony will then go to Memphis, and some of them possibly return to China. The laundry here is owned by four of the Chinamen, among them Charles Lee, a well educated Chinaman, who has for several years driven the wagon. They have also done a good business in tea and other Chinese products, and most of them have money.

The robe for Lin Sing, the dead man, will arrive today from Chicago, and then the remains will be ready to take to Memphis, where they will be kept until Sam Sing winds up the estate of his brother, and winds up his own business in Memphis. He will then start to Hong Kong with the body.

Charles Lee, of Paducah, will return to China to live, he says. He will dispose of his business in Paducah and also in Memphis, where he is interested, and will then return to his native country to spend the remainder of his days. The Chinese laundry here was started when all the work was done by hand, but now machinery is used there, as in other laundries.

A weak woman can put up a strong bluff.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

The gauge today is 15.7 and falling. The weather is cool, and there was a heavy fog this morning. Many boats had to lay up most of the night on account of it.

The Dick Fowler left on time today for Cairo.

The Evansville packets will probably resume Monday. The ice is thinning out but is still too heavy for navigation between here and Evansville.

The Royal will probably attempt to resume her trips between Paducah and Golconda tomorrow.

The Kentucky arrived last night from Tennessee river and returns tomorrow night.

The steamer Richardson, which was scheduled to lay up at this port until Saturday on account of the ice in the Ohio river, left last night for Smithland, Ky., for a load of corn. Smithland is right at the mouth of the river, and a large amount of grain from Illinois is handled. The trip being made in the nature of a special, for very little freight was conveyed down on the boat and few stops will be made between here and Smithland and return.—Nashville Banner.

A Man Sentenced to Thirty Years Married.

Peoria, Ill., Young Man Aroused From a Five Weeks' Cataleptic Sleep.

FORTUNE FOR SAVING A LIFE

Dixon, Ill., Jan. 20.—John H. Donavin was sentenced by Judge Farrand to serve a term of thirty years in the penitentiary at Joliet, for the murder of George Gagen, at Steward, this county, on September last. Within fifteen minutes after he had been sentenced Donavin was married to Miss Mary Elizabeth Eppelring of Huntington, Ind.

The two young people became acquainted in Chicago, where he was working as a bookkeeper, and she as stenographer. Deputy Sheriff McGowan notified the parents of the young lady of her intention to marry Donavin. The father sent word back that she was of age and could do as she pleased in the matter. Their object in being married at this time is that the young woman may be in a better position to make a fight to free her husband before he has served his term. He pleaded guilty to the crime under an agreement with the state's attorney that the death penalty would not be assessed.

Slept Five Weeks.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 20.—Five weeks ago Benjamin Coniglsky, an art student in Washington, D. C., whose home is in this city, was brought back by his brother in a cataleptic sleep. While in Washington, and in connection with his art studies, he became infatuated with the occult and actually hypnotized himself. He was found in his room soundly asleep, and as he could not be awakened his family at Peoria brought him back. Since then he has lain in this mysterious sleep, and was only aroused today when a battery was applied to his spinal column. One electrode was applied at the base of the brain and another to the end of the spinal column, and the full force of the battery being turned on, the patient awakened and the indications are that he will recover.

Substantial Gratitude.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 20.—Through an act which saved the life of a friend, E. C. Shuman of this city has fallen heir to an estate valued at between $60,000 and $70,000, left to him by Robert Royerton, a young Colorado miner. One night Shuman turned aside a revolver which was about to be discharged at Royerton, following a dispute over a game of cards. Royerton remembered his rescuer in his will, which has just been filed.

Burglar Curses Judge and Jurors.

Beaumont, Tex., Jan. 20.—James Allen, convicted today of burglary and given three years at hard labor, cursed the judges and jurors. He said he would live long enough to dance on their graves.

Pleasant Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sanders gave a reception Wednesday night at their home on the Mayfield road in honor of Miss Ella Messerang. An enjoyable evening was spent and delightful refreshments were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Sanders; Misses K. Street, Annie Theubald, Katie Smi, Ella Theubald, Ella Messerang, Angeline Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hondurant; Messrs. Rury Street, Louis and Fred Theubald, Charlie Broyles, Bue Sanders, Jim Nolan, John Sanders.
